GRUNAU DISPERSES HOPES TO END RAIL STRIKE IN CHICAGO

OUTLAW LEADER, LOOKED TO FOR INSTRUCTIONS, TAKES NO ACTION.

STILL OUT IN EAST

Officials of Roads Reject Proposal of "Rebels" to Return to Work.

Chicago, April 22.—Hopes for settlement of the strike were lost here today when John Grunau declared he would take no immediate action to end the walkout. Grunau is president of the Chicago Yardmen's association and led the strike which originated in Chicago. He was released last night from the jail after he had been arrested for alleged violation of the Lever act.

"I am going home to stay there until 10 o'clock Saturday," he said. "I will not talk or take any action until my case has been heard before a federal commissioner."

The Railroad General Managers' association announced further improvement in traffic conditions. Movement of livestock in the Chicago district was reported greater than shipments a year ago. Leaders repudiated by the men when they counseled ending the walkout because, they said, they "could not fight the government."

Officials of the roads rejected the proposal of the "rebels" to return to work. The position of the strikers was confirmed by Edward McHugh, chairman of the strikers' men had committed to remain out "if necessary until the railroad labor board handed down a decision."

Approximately 6,000 railroad strikers meeting in Jersey city today voted not to return to work, but to appeal to men on all lines who have not worked out, to do so on their support.

NO MARKED CHANGE IN DETROIT
Detroit, Mich., April 22.—Aside from some further progress in the movement of freight in the city, no marked change was indicated today in the situation resulting from the strike.

Railroad officials declared today that applications had been received from a number of strikers who desired to return to work individually.

MOTOR STOCK RALLIES REGAINS 3-14 POINTS
New York, April 22.—Liquidation of speculative shares was resumed at the opening of today's stock market. The pressure emanating from professional interests.

Offerings were well absorbed for a time. General Motors recovered 1 1/2 points, yesterday's 4 1/2 point decline while other leaders in the industrial and special divisions rallied 1 to 1 1/2 points.

The market made a sharp recovery at noon, sentiment being favorably influenced by the market's advance of the 7 percent rate for call money.

On the rally, to which the shorts made involuntary contributions, actual gains of 1 1/2 to 1 3/4 points were made. Yesterday's final prices were made by General Motors, Baldwin Locomotive, United States Rubber and minor steel and engineering.

Trading became dull at midday after a morning turnover exceeding one million shares.

FANATIC INDICTED BRYAN GAINS AS IN MARKOE KILLING VOTES ROLL IN

Simpkin, Itinerant Printer, Shoots Doctor in N. Y. Church.

New York, April 22.—An indictment charging first degree murder was returned by the grand jury against Thomas W. Simpkin, itinerant printer, formerly employed in Baraboo, Wis., who shot and killed Dr. James W. Markoe, noted surgeon, during last Sunday's service in St. George's Episcopal church.

Reverend Dr. Markoe, Mr. Dineen was said to have shown the jury the revolver said to have been used by Simpkin and cartridge shells with which he was charged.

Simpkin is said by the police to have escaped from a number of insane asylums within recent years and to have come to New York for the avowed purpose of shooting the late J. P. Morgan, only to learn that he was already dead.

A bench warrant was issued for Simpkin and he will be transferred from the prison where he is held to the city hall where he is expected to be arraigned tomorrow.

SHARP NEW BREAKS OCCUR IN CORN PITS

Chicago, April 22.—Sharp new breaks took place today in the corn market right at the May delivery which was in the May delivery which in some cases exhibited a sheer descent of 6 cents a bushel.

Initial prices in corn have much lower range than usual and the May delivery were as much as 2 cents apart for simultaneous trades.

In different parts of the pit, the price started at 1.66 1/2 as compared with 1.66 1/4 at yesterday's finish. The corn market as a whole opened 1/4 cent lower, with July at 1.66 1/2 at 1.67 1/4.

FRENCH PREMIER DISCUSSES STATUS OF GERMAN ARMY

MILLERAND MEETS CORRESPONDENTS OF ELEV. AMERICAN NEWS-PAPERS.

U. S. NOTE DELAYED

Message to Wilson About Turkish Question Not Yet Sent.

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
San Remo, April 22.—The official statement issued by the supreme council at the close of the morning session says:

"The supreme council assembled at 11 o'clock this morning and heard the opinion of military and naval experts on questions regarding the administration of the Dardanelles straits. The council approved the insertion of clauses relating to this matter in the Turkish peace treaty. The council afterwards examined the present situation in the Caucasus."

Control Plan Fixed.
The plans for the control of the Dardanelles were formulated by the supreme council at today's session. The control will be exercised by two international commissions. One of these, an administrative body, will regulate the traffic, fix the dues for the use of the straits and supervise affairs generally much the same as the Suez canal commission does for the Suez waterway.

The other body will be a military commission having at its disposition forces which will be located in part at the Gallipoli peninsula and in part on the other side of the straits.

Receives Correspondents.
Alexandre Millerand, the French premier, today received a number of newspaper correspondents, of whom 11 are here, and talked freely about peace conference affairs.

Our friendship with the American people," he said, "did not begin with 1914, but long before that and before you brought us the peace in the war which now is such a precious recollection."

"Suppose Germany continues to default, what should be done?" the premier was asked.

"Ah, that is the question," replied Millerand. "I have just received a German cable asking our consent for her to maintain an army of 200,000."

NEGRO CONFESSES MURDER OF GIRL

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Indianapolis, Ind., April 22.—William Ray, a 19-year-old negro, arrested last night in connection with the murder last Monday of Martha Huff, aged 14, made a written confession of the crime early today, according to a statement at headquarters.

In the statement, Ray, according to the police, traced his movements from the time he was last seen with the girl from home by promising her new clothes until after he had thrown her body, stripped of jewelry, into the creek at the western end of the city.

Ray denied that he assaulted the girl, the police said, but admitted he had thrown her body into the creek. The alleged confession was written after a stipulation of the girl had identified Ray as the person with whom the Huff girl had left home.

Ray came to Indianapolis from Chicago three weeks ago.

ALLEGED I. W. W.'S SHOT IN CLASH WITH MINE GUARDS

DISTURBANCES CONTINUED TODAY AS PICKETS MEET RESISTANCE.

14 IN HOSPITAL

Firing Starts When Police Attempt to Disperse Crowds.

San Francisco, Calif., April 22.—Announcement that he had complied with the request of Governor Stewart of Montana that troops be sent to Butte as the result of mine strike disturbances there, was made today by Lieutenant General Leggett, commanding the western department of the army. The size of the detachment was left to Major General O. C. Morrison, commanding Camp Lewis, he said.

ANOTHER ALLEGED I. W. W. IS SHOT AND KILLED
Butte, Mont., April 22.—Hugh B. Haran, a guard in front of the Daily Bulletin, said to be the organ of the Metal Mine Workers Union, was shot and killed today by Joseph Papst, another guard.

Papst, who was arrested, said the shooting was accidental. The mine guards and county authorities were investigating today a clash late yesterday near the Neverse mine here in which 14 men, eight from Butte and six from Butte, were shot and two of them seriously wounded.

Most of the men were said to be pickets of a new strike Sunday by the Metal Mine Workers' union to enforce demands including a 10 percent wage increase and release of "all political prisoners."

Police Disperse Crowd.
The shooting began, according to Sheriff John A. O'Rourke, who had a force of deputies were attempting to disperse a crowd which had gathered at the mine. At the time, the sheriff said, several heated arguments were in progress.

The first shot, the sheriff said, was fired from a building near the boarding house, and narrowly missed a deputy sheriff. Immediately afterward, he said, "shots were fired in all directions."

Police Did Not Fire.
Both police officers and the sheriff's deputies asserted they fired no shots.

The shooting was followed by a appearance on the streets of an extra person on a newspaper calling on the workers in the county to "lay down their tools and stop the wheels of industry" as a protest against the strike.

A large number of deputes were quoted as urging their hearers to "arm themselves in self-defense."

The deputies were sworn in during the night by the sheriff.

Good Old Fashioned Faith

—That's What The World Needs Most

WHAT is the cure for the world's present troubles—for unrest and envy and covetousness and fear? Legislation? Industrial compromises? Political readjustments? We've tried them all, and they do not satisfy.

We're hungry and thirsty for Faith.

"The world needs a genuine religious revival," cabled the London financial editor of the New York Evening Post recently. And he added: "This is the view of hard-headed business men."

What business men are now proclaiming the churches have always proclaimed. You must touch the spirits of men if you are to change their lives; only to the extent of their faith in each other can they work together. All remedies are makeshifts except the Golden Rule.

Thirty denominations, knowing the need to be too great for any one denomination to meet alone, are cooperating in a nationwide campaign.

It is a campaign for deepening the spiritual forces of men; for enlisting their hearts, and their pocket-books too. And every man and woman who loves America will be glad of a chance to help.

For the hope of America is Democracy and the Founder of Democracy was the Founder of the Church. It was He who first called men sons of God, and so made all men brothers.

Not as employers and employees, not as members of parties or sects, but as sons of God and brothers all let us work out our problems together.

To strengthen the Church is our first great task; out of the Church flows Faith.

Good Old Fashioned Faith

—That's What The World Needs Most

WHAT is the cure for the world's present troubles—for unrest and envy and covetousness and fear? Legislation? Industrial compromises? Political readjustments? We've tried them all, and they do not satisfy.

We're hungry and thirsty for Faith.

"The world needs a genuine religious revival," cabled the London financial editor of the New York Evening Post recently. And he added: "This is the view of hard-headed business men."

What business men are now proclaiming the churches have always proclaimed. You must touch the spirits of men if you are to change their lives; only to the extent of their faith in each other can they work together. All remedies are makeshifts except the Golden Rule.

Thirty denominations, knowing the need to be too great for any one denomination to meet alone, are cooperating in a nationwide campaign.

It is a campaign for deepening the spiritual forces of men; for enlisting their hearts, and their pocket-books too. And every man and woman who loves America will be glad of a chance to help.

For the hope of America is Democracy and the Founder of Democracy was the Founder of the Church. It was He who first called men sons of God, and so made all men brothers.

Not as employers and employees, not as members of parties or sects, but as sons of God and brothers all let us work out our problems together.

To strengthen the Church is our first great task; out of the Church flows Faith.

LUTHERAN OFFICERS
IN SESSION HERERepresentatives of Five States
Gather for Quarterly Conference.

Members of the executive committee of the English Evangelical Lutheran church of the Northwest, composed of Minnesota, Montana, the Dakotas and Wisconsin, gathered here in quarterly conference yesterday.

Reports from the field show that approximately 12 churches and 10 pastors will apply for admission into the synod at the June convention to be held at Minneapolis, according to J. K. Jensen, this city, secretary of the organization.

The present membership is figured at 50 churches and pastors and 23,000 members.

Favor Salaried President
The executives went on record as favoring the election of a salaried president, to be elected at the June convention. This officer would devote his entire time to the work of supervision and administration. A subcommittee was appointed to formulate plans for the establishment of a denominational college at Bemarck, N. D.

Mr. Jensen's report as treasurer showed that in the last nine years the synod's income has increased five times and that in the last two years it has doubled. It also showed that of the 45 synods throughout the United States, which constitute the United Lutheran church, a body of more than 1,000,000 members, the synod of the northwest holds first place in contributions for the general work of the church.

Among those present at the meeting were the Rev. W. P. Christy of Minneapolis, formerly pastor here.

Mr. Christy left Janesville in 1910 after a service of six years here. The others were: Rev. G. K. Rubrecht, Minneapolis, president; Rev. L. W. Steckel, Albert Lea, Minn., secretary; Rev. J. M. Sieber, superintendent of missions; Rev. W. S. Ulrich, Fargo, and J. W. Juono, Milwaukee; O. H. Adler, Red Wing; Minn.; O. H. Larson, Killedeer, N. D.; and Mr. Jensen.

Dinner was served at the Y. M. C. A. The sessions were held at the home of Mr. Jensen.

labor and by using the help of his wife and children. So, therefore, you are not the only one meeting the high cost of production.

Method of Distribution.
"I believe that your method of distribution is wrong. Why should three milk wagons go down one street and three men go in the same flat building? Why do you not consolidate or divide the city into sections?"

"In regard to the over-supply, I was informed by one of your members that he disposed of his surplus to the cheese factory at $2.75 a hundred. On calling up the factory I found that you can dispose of ten thousand pounds of milk at the price you pay for it. If you do not care to do this you might make the surplus into butter."

About Evaporation.
"In regard to the evaporation of milk, milk consists of 87.1 percent water, and 12.9 percent solids. As the water is the only thing that can possibly evaporate, I suggest that you add a little skim milk to make up the deficiency in evaporation by pasteurizing. Skim milk is worth around fifty cents a hundred pounds."

The dairy department at the College of Agriculture, informed me that the loss by evaporation caused by pasteurizing is less than 1 percent. On a hundred pounds of milk it would be less than one pint. Prices in Other Cities.

"From the Bureau of Markets at Madison, I got the list of the following cities, and the prices they are charging for distributing milk to the consumer: Madison, 12c; Racine, 13c; Marinette, 13c; Appleton, 12c; Chippewa Falls, 11c; Milwaukee, 12c; Menominee, 12c; Beloit, 13c."

"I was in Waukesha yesterday and on inquiry from a milkman I found that he was distributing milk at 11c a quart to the consumer. If more than two quarts were taken the price was 10c a quart. I was informed that this milk was Guernsey milk testing 5.2."

Why Not in Janesville?
"It seems that if milk can be distributed in a great number of Wisconsin cities for from 11c to 12c, that it could be distributed in Janesville for the same price. We suggest that you go fifty-fifty with us, paying the farmer 5.5c a quart, and selling it at 11c a quart to the consumer. We think this is a just and equitable compensation to the distributor."

"While we do not intend to dictate on that margin of profit any business concern shall do business, we do intend to help the consumer by every method which we can command."

"At the board of directors' meeting last night, representing more than 2,000 Rock county farmers, the policy was adopted of first giving the distributors of all products a chance to do business upon a fair margin of profit."

One Dealer's Figures.
Roy L. Merrick, of the Merrick Dairy company, showed a tabulation of the figures of tests, to a reporter for the Gazette, Wednesday. The tests averaged now 4 and 4.1 percent and the average price being paid the farmer for milk is 6 1/2 cents. For the year beginning May 1, 1919 the average profit over the cost of milk and the selling price was 4.7 cents a quart. There is no overhead in this increased cost of distribution and handling, the cost of machinery,

$5,000 IS QUOTA OF
LOCAL U. B. CHURCH
IN WORLD MOVEMENT

Enlisted in the interchurch world movement, the United Brethren church has been allotted a quota of $5,189 to be subscribed and paid in a five-year period, $1,036 annually. The undertaking of this denomination throughout the country is $10,000,000 for five years.

The local church with other denominations will put on its financial campaign, beginning the coming Sunday and extending until May 2. A booster meeting will be held in the present, for two years only, for $4,000. Pledges will be taken at the present, for two years only, for $4,000.

In speaking of the U. B. campaign, Rev. J. Hart Truesdale said today: "This is not a new fund; it is the benevolence funds of the annual conferences and the general church increased to more adequately carry on their share of the Christian work in home and foreign missions, church erections, Christian education, training of leadership, Sunday school, Christian Endeavor, evangelism and ministerial relief."

Try The Bitro-Phosphate Health System—$300 Guarantee

NEW YORK. If you are feeling run-down, weak, nervous, tired-in-the-morning, and generally ailing, these are the symptoms that should warn you to take care of your health.

Four persons in every ten are needing more phosphorus in their bodies. When you see thin and fretful people, or those who are anaemic, pale, frail, or despondent or lacking in energy, you may look for the need of certain elements that make for a strong constitution.

Some people, after relying upon preparations composed chiefly of salts, quinine, drastic drugs, iron, cod-liver oil, etc., wonder why they find no benefit. That is easily explained by the fact that such persons need the phosphoric element, which is a most potent essential to PHOSPHATE, the famous health preparation. Now obtainable everywhere.

The right thing for you to do is make a trial of BITRO-PHOSPHATE beginning at once. It is not a weakness mentioned above. With every box of BITRO-PHOSPHATE, are a few simple health rules and a 1000 guarantee. Buy a box of BITRO-PHOSPHATE. It is sold and recommended by Smith Drug Co. and all good druggists everywhere.

200 AT METHODIST FATHER-SON MEET; PROGRAM ADOPTED

A large program for future usefulness, which may include moving picture entertainments, a lecture, regular meetings of men and boys, together, was tentatively adopted at the fathers and sons' banquet held last evening at the Cargill Methodist church.

The new officers who are pledged to carry on the work, are: president, J. E. Autry; vice presidents, A. C. Preston, J. C. Keller, A. T. Mosier and W. J. Knights; treasurer, George Miller; secretary, Arthur Ward; and chaplain, Rev. Miller. Suggestions on new lines of work were made by C. R. Bearmore, Dr. F. T. Richards, J. E. Lane, E. P. Hocking, J. R. Nichols, E. B. Van Pool, J. A. Stelner.

An inspiring address, which emphasized the thought of having highest ideals in the home relations and through them a new program of service toward the community, the nation and first of all God, was given by Rev. J. E. Hocking of the First Methodist church, Racine. His message was enlivened by personal anecdotes and witticisms.

The men's chorus of the church, directed by E. B. Van Pool, sang several numbers. George Jacobs and C. R. Bearmore sang solo parts.

Two hundred men and boys enjoyed the banquet. Circle number 5 with Mrs. Alonzo Hubbard as chairman was in charge of the menu. Mrs. V. Beals and Mrs. Robert Miller had charge of the dining room; 25 girls served as waitresses.

YOUR SUMMER OUTING

START TO PLAN IT NOW. There is a lot of joy in dreaming about when and where you will go, who goes with you and what you will wear.

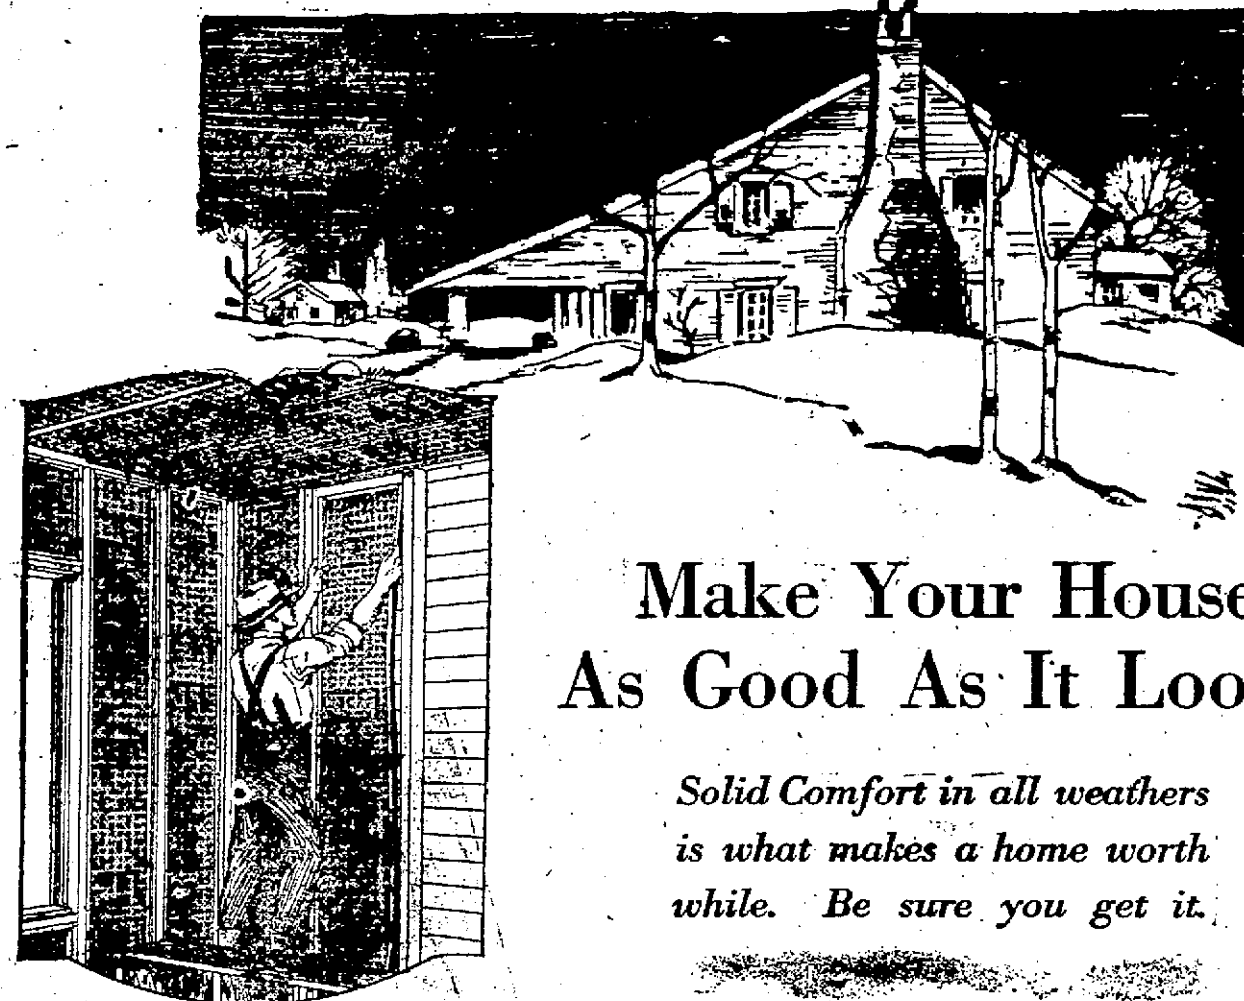

A STURDY little sports suit for traveling and knockabout. An inexpensive silk frock to save laundry. A cool organdie or georgette for dancing. Possibly a skirt or a waist is needed to get you ready.

True, you could get them 'most anywhere if you would accept 'most anything. But you like little touches of distinction about your things, don't you.

THEN COME TO US. We've had just the best time getting ready for your summer. We have dreamed with you about your clothes. Now they're here.

ALL the while, too, we have kept in mind the awful H. C. of L., and in spite of it we have gotten together a splendid lot of smart summer wearables at moderate prices.

Make Your House As Good As It Looks

Solid Comfort in all weathers is what makes a home worth while. Be sure you get it.

FLAXLINUM

Keeps the House Warm in Winter—Cool in Summer—Saves 1-3 of Coal Bill

MANY a new home is fine until zero weather comes. Then the trouble begins. No matter how hard you crowd the furnace, you can't get the house warm. And can't be comfortable.

The furnace isn't to blame. It is producing the heat, but the heat escapes through the walls and out through the roof.

There's just one way to keep comfortable in cold winter weather; and that's to keep the cold out and the heat in.

That's what Flaxlinum does. You build it into the walls and roof of your house, and it keeps the heat and cold from passing through. Same principle as the insulation in the walls of your refrigerator. In fact, the same thing, for Flaxlinum is the insulation used in the best refrigerators built.

Since Flaxlinum keeps the heat in and the cold out, it requires less coal to heat a house. Flaxlinum users say from 30 to 40 per cent. Such a big saving soon pays for the Flaxlinum in these days of high fuel costs.

Flaxlinum
TRADE MARK REGISTERED

But, after all, the great thing about Flaxlinum is not the coal it saves but the comfort it gives you. There's no estimating the money value of comfort.

A layer of Flaxlinum one-half inch thick, the thickness in which it is ordinarily used, is equivalent in heat and cold resistance to thirty thicknesses of building paper, or four solid inches of back plaster.

Flaxlinum requires no special construction. It comes flanged to fit between the studding in the walls; and in flat sheets to fit over the rafters in roof insulation. You can use Flaxlinum even if the framework of your house is already up.

For stucco houses FLAXLINUM KEYBOARD combines the insulation advantages of Flaxlinum with a strong stucco base.

Flaxlinum products are sold by leading building material dealers everywhere. They are specified by architects and endorsed by contractors. If you do not know the name of your nearest Flaxlinum dealer, write us. Free samples and booklets sent on request. In writing, please state the kind of building you are interested in.

HOUSE BUILDING CONTINUES HEAVY

Three More Permits Issued by Blair Brings up Two Weeks' Record.

Work on the big building for the Parker Pen Company was resumed this morning. Bricklayers and electricians formed the foundation on which the resumption of work was made possible. A scarcity of mason helpers was in evidence but members of the Federated Labor council promised the contractors that this type of labor would be available to meet requirements by Friday. Carpenters and finishers will be on the job within a few days. Already the labor council says it has taken action to recall to the city a number of craftsmen who took work outside with the coming on of the controversy between their federation and the Janesville Builders' Exchange.

Formal settlement of the Parker building labor dispute was made yesterday afternoon. "It is highly agreeable to the contractors and men alike," was the statement of George D. Blair, business agent of the council and others of its members this morning.

What unionized men here declare to be a big piece of labor was made by a letter from the Raulf company, Milwaukee, the Parker building contractors, to the effect that they would finish the job with organized labor.

MRS. WILMANTH TO BE BURIED FRIDAY AT 11:20

The body of Mrs. James C. Wilmarth will arrive at Janesville from El Paso, Texas, at 11:20 a. m. tomorrow, over the Northwestern road, and the funeral will be immediately after. There will be no services other than those at the Hill corner where the body will be taken. The funeral will be held at the Hill corner where the body will be taken.

While she was attending school in the east and living at her grandfather's home, she was married in New York to James Wilmarth, then editor of the Gazette and part owner of the paper at the time. It was about six months later that on account of weakened lungs, the result of over exertion at a fire which destroyed the Gazette plant, Mr. Wilmarth sold out his interest in the Gazette and went with Mrs. Wilmarth to El Paso. There he established the Herald and has been town editor and manager since. Mrs. Wilmarth succumbed to the disease which took her husband away from Janesville last Monday. There are no children and the relatives here are cousins, Harry E. Bliss, and the Richardsons. Mr. Wilmarth will accompany the body here. A brother, Fred S. Richardson, lives in Beloit and another, Frank R. Richardson in Seattle, Wash.

Congregational Church to Observe 75th Anniversary Two Edifices Razed by Fire

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH AS IT STANDS TODAY From an old etching made for the Gazette in 1881.

Janesville Congregationalists tomorrow observe with fitting ceremony the 75th anniversary of the founding of their church here. In contrast to the two periodical observations of the establishment of the church, the 25th and the 50th, the occasion this year will not be so elaborate as in the past, because of divers present day conditions. Nevertheless, members of the church express the tribute will be conveyed under existing circumstances.

It was at the old courthouse on Feb. 11, 1845, that the Janesville church was organized. Fifteen members of the creed gathered there under the leadership of the Rev. C. A. Buckley, who held a commission in the American Home Missionary Society to take the action which proved to be the foundation for one of the first Congregational churches in Wisconsin.

None of the charter members is living today. Direct descendants of them still living are, Mrs. Edward R. Coe, Whitewater, daughter of Joseph Spaulding, one of the organizers, and Mrs. F. W. Chapin, this city, a daughter of Mrs. Almira Wiley, the only surviving member.

Rev. Hilma Foote was the first settled minister. He served for a number of years.

The first church edifice was dedicated in 1850. Rev. F. B. Norton was its pastor. The structure was destroyed by fire and was rebuilt in 1867 and dedicated in 1869. For a second time conflagration totally destroyed their church. The religious society of the city, however, was not smothered and from the ruins of their place of worship arose a structure more magnificent and beautiful than most cities in the northwest could boast at that period. This work still stands. The organ in the present church was donated by the late David Jeffris and the echo organ by Mrs. James A. Wilmarth.

SAMSON MAN MAY LOSE LEFT EYE; HURT LAST NIGHT

F. C. Watson, Samson shop worker, faces the danger of losing the sight of his left eye as a result of an accident at the Samson plant last night, when a piece of steel was thrown by a punching machine. Although he still retains his sight, Samson physicians see a possibility of complications setting in to destroy the left eyesight.

He was taken to his home, 330 North High street, and later to Mercy hospital in the city ambulance, last night.

E. J. Schumaker, 114 Clark street, was taken in the ambulance to the hospital at 6:30 last evening for an operation.

POLES IN PETROGRAD START EASTER REVOLT

[BY ASSOCIATED PRESS.]
Stockholm, April 22.—Polish residents of Petrograd, who participated in a demonstration on Russian Easter, were attacked by Bolshevik troops and a number killed, says a Helsinki dispatch to the Tideningsen. Numerous arrests were made by the Bolsheviks. It is said that the arrest of the clergy in Petrograd, it is said, and a manifestation was planned. The parade carrying banners, marched through the streets to the prison, where the bishop and his colleagues were being held, but when they arrived there they were ordered to disperse. Upon their refusal to obey they were attacked.

A Depositor Saved Loss

A man purchased a home some months ago, paying part cash and a mortgage for the balance.

A few days ago the owner of this mortgage asked him for the interest which he claimed was past due and unpaid.

But the owner of the house said he had paid this interest once. He looked up his canceled checks and found the check he had used for that purpose.

The owner of the Mortgage had simply forgotten to give him credit for the payment.

The canceled check settled the question at once and saved our depositor trouble and loss. Do you use the Checking System?

This day in 1818, Cadwallader Colden Washburn was born at Livermore, Maine. He was governor of Wisconsin 1872-73, a Major General of Volunteers in the Civil War, a lumberman of note, established of the Washburn flouring mills at Minneapolis, and introduced the Hungarian roller process of making flour into the United States. He established the Observatory that bears his name at the university, Madison. The Washburn family was noted in statesmanship and business in three states.

JANESVILLE FINANCES IN GOOD SHAPE.

Janesville's showing as to finances is a matter of congratulation. It is evidence of economy in many ways. But a city's money is appropriated for use and has to cover an extended period. The habit in most of the cities of the country of spending income about a year in advance is poor policy. Next year there should be a large addition to the receipts of the city through increased valuations of real estate. Upon the shoulders of the assessor lies a heavy burden and he will have his troubles to encounter. Rent raisers, and profiteers who rent rooms should be reached if it is possible. Not only should the paving program of this year be put through, but next year the high school is to be built. There should be more paving next year. We ought to have the public comfort stations built. But there is only a small amount available in the general fund, and it is here that the economy has to be applied. The detailed report of the treasury condition printed in another column of the Gazette today is certainly interesting to the people.

AKRON, A CITY AWAKENED.

What industrial plants will do for a city is shown by the 20.8 percent growth of Akron, O. Twenty years ago Akron was emerging from a state of self-satisfied coma. It was a county seat town, the home of an old and worthy but very conservative sectarian college, and a rather sleepy city. But one industry began another, the problems presented were met and the city qualified as a place both in which to live and in which to do business. Janesville may well look to Akron and her methods of solving many city problems, as a mentor.

MR. WILSON "WILL MAKE THE ISSUE."

Mr. David Lawrence in his telegram to the Gazette today gives the important information that the president is "going to make the issue" in the forthcoming campaign, and that issue is to be the treaty. The president takes "himself altogether too seriously" in this matter. In spite of declarations in the platform and attempts to make issues, they are generally made without deliberate designs. Also in this case the issue will be made by the party on the offensive and not the defensive. There may be a treaty issue and the republican party will welcome it. The results of the treaty as they are worked out day by day show that the republican position was the only one possible to preserve this nation from a continuous state of war or military participation in the European mess. But there will be other issues—Mr. Burleson for one, the naval breakdown for another, the wasted millions and the failure both in war and peace to meet the domestic questions or in any way solve them. High cost and wages, profiteering and the abortive attempts to do something about the red menace only to have one side of the government fight the other, will be issues. The big, real issue is whether we want a Wilsonized government or not. President Wilson may write in the platform something he opines will be the issue, but may we not suggest that the real issue will be made by some 20,000,000 voters.

THE INTERNATIONAL PROLETARIAT.

ARTICLE II.
An Appeal to a Class that has no Actual existence in America.
In the first article the close partnership between the Russian Bolshevik, the Russian Workers of America, the Communists, the I. W. W., and the socialists was shown by the language of the manifestos or platforms of each. All have the same source, all are basing their action on the same theories. There is but one father of socialism, Karl Marx, and from him comes the parlor or "pussy-foot" socialism we have known for many years in America with its program of education. With the example of Russia this has been found too slow a process and a revolution of a peaceful character was never contemplated by Marx. He wanted force, destruction of wealth, and the right to obtain it, individually, and the educated to pave the way for the establishment of the "dictatorship of the proletariat." That has been accomplished in Russia, in a soil of human woes to which the American bears no relation whatsoever.

In order to establish in America the dictatorship of the proletariat, we should first perforce have a proletariat. It isn't here. We had the nearest approach to it when the hobo was abroad and numerous. He has gone. With him disappeared the American proletarian. He never should have existed. He was made by languor, liquor, and our complaisant system of passing him along. He was never a collective danger, for he had no foolish notion that he was born to run a government or anything else that required effort. According to authority the proletariat is the indigent class in the state. To be indigent is to be "destitute of property or means of comfortable subsistence." Karl Marx found his proletariat fitting into his definition 70 and 80 years ago in Russia, in central Europe and in many other quarters of the globe where government was outside the many and in the homes of the few. He did not find them in America, set off by themselves in a class and under laws which made it impossible to get from under the yoke. Abraham Lincoln would have come under that head had he been lazy and unwilling to work. Had he been under a dictatorship of the proletariat, where all individuality was sunk in the mass, he would have remained at whatever physical task he started.

Socialism as a doctrine is false to the United States because it first declares a condition that does not exist and on this false hypothesis attempts to build up the dictatorship of the proletariat on the Russian basis. The Russian revolution was first made possible by the demand of the peasants for the right to buy and own property in their name. That right has always existed in America. It was not possible in Russia because of centuries of failure on the part of the Russian autocracy to give thought to the education of the proletariat—the indigent, half-starved serfs, afterward tenants and human cattle. Since the revolution of Lenin and Trotsky there has been—not the dictatorship of the proletariat, but the dictatorship of the few at the head of the council of ministers. The proletariat knows about as much concerning what is doing on as he did under the czar. What he knows he learns from some one else and he has nothing like the liberty enjoyed by the socialists of America who can vote for a man charged with a felony to sit in congress.

There is only one moving reason for any agitation in America for the establishment of the Marxian proletariat dictatorship; that is the scheme of internationalizing all the proletariat and setting up a world dictatorship. That was the Marx idea. That is the plan fostered in Moscow and transplanted to America by alien agents. It is not a home-grown weed. It was originally made in Germany. It was spawned of a mind warped and pained by imperialistic autocracy and maddened by claims of divine right to rule. It came from a mind visualizing a people close at home separated by artificial barriers of birth and centuries of living the same sordid life, void of ambition, achieving nothing, dying in the mental swaddling cloth in which one was born. That was the proletariat as seen by Marx. Blood revenge, property confiscation, seizure of government by force, and afterward maintaining the place by the same force that had spun the web of hatred of military mastery. That was the method of Marx. It has been done in Russia. But to attempt to fit the same reasons to America is as sensible and possible as it would be to compare the eager-faced American child rearing in a district school, with the naked cannibal youngster gnawing ravenously at the bone of a human victim of savage appetite.

But that Marx internationalism is the plan of the One Big Union. It is advocated as the first step. It is in direct line with the methods of Marx. First there must be created an association of men willing to confess that they are proletarians—indigent and void of ability to support themselves—before we can have a movement to establish the "dictatorship of the proletariat." That will be joined by no man of property, for his home and his personal possessions will belong to the state, and the state will belong to whomsoever by force is in power; for some one will be dictator, that being the way of man.

No man would take a poisonous snake into his home and feel that his children would be safe. He would make an effort to kill the reptile before it got within the shadow of the home. The way to kill the serpent of socialistic revolution is to take it while it is in its infancy and not to be deceived concerning its harmlessness. Criticism of the government, of its officials, advocacy of changes, is a right guaranteed by the constitution and the statutes. There is no "Less Majesty" in America. No official is sacred, or is set up by Divinity or called to the job by any Higher Power than his fellow men. He can be commended, criticised, assisted or hampered; he can be voted against secretly and with freedom and no one to question. In law or American ethics there is nothing to say the citizen may. But the man or woman who starts on the hypothesis that the whole scheme of the republic is basically wrong and that the way to change the wrong is first to burn the house, is an enemy of the government and should be so treated without regard to whether he is a proletarian and willing to admit it, or a university professor suffering from political paranoia.

If the promoters wish to achieve what they conceive to be reforms for correction of evils which do or do not exist, and they agree on a definite program for the purpose of electing a congress and an administration to carry out by statutory laws these things, they would be entirely within their rights of American citizens. And it is because this action by such peaceful methods provided by the constitution, is no part of the plan of the leaders of the revolutionary movement, that they come under the head of the treasonable and disloyal in the dictatorship of the international proletariat.

IN TOUCH WITH THE WORLD.

The dominant position held by the Associated Press in the gathering and distribution of the news of the world was again brought to the fore at the meeting held at New York this week. Gazette readers have the pleasure and satisfaction of reading the dispatches from every part of the globe each evening. What has happened of universal interest in the uttermost ends of the earth today is printed here in the afternoon. One is in touch with all human activities when he is given the opportunity of reading the Associated Press cables and domestic telegrams over a wire connecting Janesville with the whole world.

The next article will deal with causes leading to unrest, and why it is possible for the revolutionary agitators to get a hearing. The orgy of waste, extravagance and profiteering.

The landlord problem is really the building problem. Build houses enough in any community and landlords cannot charge excessive rentals. If there are difficulties in the way of building houses, why, that is another matter, but it is certain that neither in Milwaukee, New York nor any place else will high rents be permanently relieved except by more housing.—Wausau Record-Herald.

JUST FOLKS

GOOD OPINION.
These are the lasting joys of earth—
A home which shelters honest mirth,
A few good loyal friends and true
Who take delight in all you do,
Clean hands which know no secret shame,
And, first of all, a spotless name.
There are a few great treasures here—
A kindly heart, a conscience clear,
A mind which knows no bigot's chain
And yet for truth will firm remain,
A voice that speaks in all you do,
And scorns the gossip's evil ways.
He shall be glad who walks erect
And wins and keeps all men's respect,
Though lacking wealth and fame and skill
No man shall seek to do him ill,
And whosoever his pathway wends,
He shall find happiness and friends.
Fools waste their hard-won bit of fame
By linking pleasure unto shame,
They fling away their little smiles
The treasures that are most worth while
And lose, one mad gay hour to find,
The good opinion of mankind.
He shall be happiest here who clings
Unto the joys which honor brings,
Who has a great big good opinion
Head high in any company,
Who tries to serve some useful ends,
And scorns to disappoint his friends.

ON THE SPUR OF THE MOMENT

THEM'S MY SENTIMENTS.
Give me a great big soup spoon.
Give me a great big spoon.
Give me a great big spoon.
Don't call me away too soon.
I want "cake" made like biscuits.
The real old-fashioned kind;
Cake like mother tried to make,
Before she lost her mind.
I want a whole lot of berries.
With strawberry juice on the side.
And I want a great big napkin
To dam up the crimson tide.
For I love to splash in my shortsake
And eat with a right-ang swizzle.
Like a movie queen colorizing
At the Ritz on a week-end fling.
So send me a flat-footed waiter.
The kind that will hurry back,
And let him take my order.
While I give good manners the sack.
And then I will guzzle and guzzle
And wallow up to my ears;
For I'd rather have a shortsake
Than twenty thousand dollars.
—Karl K. Kitchin.

LAY OFF THAT STUFF.
Dear Roy: You note that you have spent a few days on a bed of pain and hope that you are well again. Your clever column has made us very fond of you. On the other hand, should anything ever happen to you, please try to send us a message on our ouija board. We should enjoy hearing from you. Always,
—Marcel Steinbrugg.

WHAT'D U THINK IT WAS?
The two dear girls on our right were talking animatedly.
"She's good looking, but I don't think she's all she ought to be."
"Neither do I. Look at the way she did down in front of the theater last night."
"That's what I say. But she does show some speed."
"Speed, oh boy. And roughness—you can always depend on her for that."
"Her lips aren't bad," said the other.
"I guess that's what took dad's eye. You know dad?"
"Dad?" But, privately, I think she's making him sorry.
"That's the best thing she does—all paint and form, and nothing much under the hood."
"I think dad's going to get rid of her before long. She's burning up his car."
"Who is the unspeakable person?" we inquired.
"For?"
"That's what I say. But she does show some speed."
"I'd like to meet her."
"For?"
"That's what I say. But she does show some speed."
"I'd like to meet her."
"For?"
"That's what I say. But she does show some speed."
"I'd like to meet her."
"For?"

Alas and alack that we should live to see the day when the type-setter is being put out of business by the ouija board.

Because wrist watches gained favor on account of their convenience, that was the reason for shortening the girls' skirts as a convenience for the knees watches?

OPINIONS OF OTHERS

OVERALL COVERS A MULTITUDE OF SHAMS.
Those who propose to cure the "high cost of living" by wearing overalls are "pikers." They can only plunk it up. They want to do it to advance on a far broader front and make poverty fashionable. It will follow naturally and inevitably that the sign of a failure will become a badge of fashion. But until we have worked this trifling miracle it is going to be exceedingly bothersome to get water to run in a hill, permanently and universally. And only a permanent and universal determination on the part of the people to do without things will save in the h.c. of I. from this side.
We do not mean to imply, of course, that the overall has been in the past the uniform of failure. It was exactly the reverse. It was the uniform of valuable and the idea underlying the fantastic movement by which men—on whom working overalls are wasted as completely as a soldier's uniform would be on the most worthy octopus—were to compel the reduction of prices for clothing by ballooning the prices for overalls until the real workers cannot afford them is the idea of making popular and "fashionable" the high school clothing; in other words, of doing without the clothing to which they are accustomed. This is the degradation of the overall.—Philadelphia Public Ledger (Ind.).

LOOKING BACKWARD

FORTY YEARS AGO
April 22, 1880.—There will be a street parade of Burr Robbins' circus at its opening date here May first. The circus is the largest as ever, despite the terrible injuries that Robbins received some months ago. The Florence Herbert combination show was at the Opera House last night and had a large audience. They presented "The Two Orphans."

THIRTY YEARS AGO
April 22, 1890.—The board of education met at an adjourned meeting last night in the city clerk's office. President Fatherly presided. There was a full house last night at the sparring match in Lippin's hall. There were three or four preliminary bouts, which were followed by the main event—the bout between Ed. Morrissey and James Brown. Morrissey won.

TWENTY YEARS AGO
April 22, 1900.—Sunday.

TEN YEARS AGO
April 22, 1910.—The annual contest for the Lovejoy, Loomis, Recorder and Mahoney medals in declamation, poetry, oratory and extemporaneous speaking was held at the high school at eight o'clock tonight. Those who will participate are the Misses Clara Schwartz, Winifred Granger, Katherine Jaffris, Florence Weber and four preliminary bouts, which were followed by the main event—the bout between Ed. Morrissey and James Brown. Morrissey won.

Suing the Government

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN.

Washington, April 22.—On a rocky headland of the Maine coast a man built a hotel. He became a prosperous summer resort. Then the government of the United States bought the land immediately adjoining him, and built a military reservation. The hotel was equipped with ordinance of the largest caliber. These great guns were regularly used for target practice. The waves of the sea went off the vibration would shake the hotel and shiver a few of its windows. No one would stay there. The owner was ruined.

He sued the government under a clause of the judicial code by which the government makes itself responsible for property taken by its agents. He contended that to all intents and purposes the government had taken his hotel away from him. Both the court of claims and the supreme court disagreed with him. He got nothing. The great guns still boom, and his windowless deserted hotel stands a monument to the irresponsibility of governments.

Law, Not Justice
This case is an excellent example of the difference between law and justice. According to the highest courts in the land, this man got all that was coming to him, under the law, but certainly got no justice whatever. This is not a fair example of a suit against the government. Most persons who have a claim for property or money against the government can find in the law some clause upon which to base their claim. But the government cannot be sued without its permission. The courts and the law are creatures of the government. The government can make its own creatures except insofar as it will. But the government has to make contracts and do business just like a private individual or corporation. It is in the course of the delivery both the cost of making coal and its market value increase enormously. He claims that the condition of the coal is such that it is not fit for use. The government makes a contract with a man to deliver a certain amount of coal, more or less, at a certain price. In the course of the delivery both the cost of making coal and its market value increase enormously. He claims that the condition of the coal is such that it is not fit for use. UNROMANTIC HYGIENE—3 The Harm Done by Physic

An adult who has suffered for years with an annoyance attributed to irritation of the bladder—an ailment frequently which at times became a handicap—discovered at last what was the matter. The patient had consulted numerous physicians and urologists, none of whom was able to determine the cause or nature of the trouble. Finally the patient's family physician happened to mention the untoward or by-effects of the physic habit, which remark prompted the patient to speak of a habit of taking every night an "herb" physic, a habit which had been followed for just about the duration of the bladder trouble. The "herb" tablets contain a good deal of aloes, together with the other horse medicines which make up practically all "liver pills" and "herb" teas and such junk—jalap, colocynth, a sprinkling of everything cheap. These drugs unfortunately are not specific in effect; that is, they do not merely produce congestion and irritation of the bladder—but also they cause irritation of the kidneys and bladder and of the other pelvic organs in both sexes. In this particular instance the withdrawal of the daily dose of "herb" physic promptly and permanently relieved the bladder trouble with which the patient had suffered several years.

I sometimes wonder how many thousands of drug-taking victims of constipation suffer in other ways from the drug habit? The crude stuff dispensed in "liver" pills, "vegetable" tablets and "herb" teas undoubtedly produces many symptoms which prove obstinate and discouraging, and the ridiculous part of it all is that the poor victim of the physic habit is quite likely to try this and that nostrum which purports to be good for what he or she imagines may be wrong—mostly else. A powerful physic habit is the worst of a wide-spread physic habit is the worst of a wide-spread physic somehow clears the blood of poisonous matter—a notion which is not for a moment entertained by an intelligent physician or by anyone with an elementary knowledge of human physiology. A dose of indiscriminate physic, in my opinion, is just a little worse than the constipation it is supposed to overcome. That is to say, less harm is done by a failure of the bowels to act for a few days than by the average physic which forces a bowel movement, or by an enema. Circumstances rarely arise in which a physic or an enema may be advisable, but there can be no excuse, and certainly there is no advantage to health, in the habit of resorting to such artifices nearly every day.

Castor oil, senna (as in castoria), and similar drugs fed to tender infants impair the physiological co-ordination of the digestive processes which normally take care of bowel function, and thus a constipated condition is established by the giving of a monkey wrench into the human machinery.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.

Q. I have rings around my eyes and would like to know what causes them. I am a young man, and I sleep every night, thank you. (A. Young Boy.)

A. ANSWER—If you want to thank me, my boy, take at least nine hours' sleep every night. Also take a pint of fresh milk with some crackers or bread and butter, every night before going to bed.

Q. My baby is a year old. While he eats well, he is pale and wastes several times every night. He has a peculiar odor. Are they harmful? (Little Mother.)

A. ANSWER—Pacifiers are harmful in many ways. You do not mention what the baby's diet has been. By all means feed him fresh milk, meat broths, fruit juices, and the pulp of stewed vegetables, strained through a sieve.

The DIARY OF AN ENGAGED GIRL

I spent the whole afternoon entertaining Cornelia Evans. We had a wonderful time.

Cornelia has been married two years, and was discussing husbands, matrimony as an institution (which she hasn't too much praise for) and her own philosophy somehow or other, and finally called on the argument as being unsuited to artistic temperaments, which as we all know are not apt to be consistent nor reasonable.

We had tea, and felt that we were expressing our deepest selves much more effectively by that means, and a mild discussion about the relative values of the academic and the futuristic schools, than by any futile dips into the psychology of husbands.

Cornelia has made me think how over she has when she talks to me about her two years' experience as a wife. Of course Cornelia is Cornelia, and I am I—but she went into rude shrieks of laughter when I said this, and told me that those had been her very words some three years before, when friends of hers had regaled her with some of their confidences. In fact, according to Cornelia, there never was a prospective bride who did not feel that in some strange way, unknown to the world, she was different from the ordinary run of prospective brides, and wives, and therefore could not have the same fate in store as those others.

Now, when Cornelia dares to tell me that the day will surely come when even I, like unto the rest of the common herd will live to be annoyed or worse, will even be bored at the sound of Jack's latch-key rasping (that's the word she used) in the lock, I feel that somehow or other Cornelia herself is at fault. She has slipped up somewhere. I suggested this, in my quiet, little way, and sent that foolish girl into new fits of laughter.

To be sure, Cornelia confesses honestly enough that she does not blame Billy for the situation any more than she does herself. No, she simply lays it up to matrimony, as is, and the fact that she ever entered into that state! I felt very sure of certain things, problems, then, raging in my soul, as she talked, but said little. I have the gift of silence, fortunately.

Cornelia tells me that all husbands are alike, that is after the first year. Pathetically so. Dear, dear, and I will have my illusions. Wives too, it seems, are singularly similar in their ways and outlooks. Wives in fact are the great slaves of modern times, the unsung heroines of the age.

I suddenly remembered a glimpse I had of Cornelia's apartment, and with vivid accuracy recalled the appearance of that untidy parlor, bedroom and bath, as seen by me. Now what I do know is that all wives are somewhere.

We ended our afternoon gossip by promising to again compare notes—two years from today.
